

A Finance Act is the fiscal legislation enacted by the Indian Parliament to give effect to the financial proposals of the government. It contains provisions relating to income taxes, customs, excise, Central and Integrated GST and other cess, exemptions, and reliefs. The government uses the Finance Act to affect its fiscal policy. The bill is usually termed the budget and it is introduced in Parliament by the Finance Minister.